Dear Mr. syufrianto syufrianto

Many thanks for submitting your manuscript to Journal of Applied Research on Industrial Engineering; the review cycle is now complete and we can come back to you with our conclusion about your paper.

After consulting experienced reviewers and our own assessment of the paper, I am happy to inform you that we offer you the opportunity of a major revision. The reviewers identified a number of significant concerns that need to be addressed for the paper to be acceptable.

Therefore, I am inviting you to submit a revised version of the paper, for further review. Please note that the resubmission does not guarantee acceptance.

Revised papers may be sent to the previous and new reviewers based on the level of changes. Authors are expected to address any new comments after the review.

Note that the revision due date is {07 Dec 2017}. After submitting your revision, I will go for another round of review. Please attach a detailed response (revision notes) stating how the revision requests of referees have been addressed in the new version of the paper.

Sincerely yours,

S.A. Edalatpanah

Journal of Applied Research on Industrial Engineering

1- Insert the full names of all authors.

2-Rewrite the abstract.

3-Rewrite the introduction section.

4- The language quality is not high. Please revise it carefully or find some help from a native English speaker.

5- Structure and section title should be improved according to journal format and there is no need to use space between each paragraph. Also, please use the right instrument for addressing the references in the text.

6- Please justify the motivation of this paper clearly and concisely. it is recommended to list the contributions of this paper.

7- literature review is poor. Please allocate the separate section to the literature and show the drawbacks of the existing work and also, you should illustrate what do the paper do? For example, you can propose a table of recent studies associated with your study to illustrate the drawbacks of existing work. Also, it is needed to review and add more recent references from 2015-2018.

8- references are very poor. Please update references.

Reviewer Comment For Author:

Abstract : the methods used are less clear and the research results are too general, make more detail according to the title in introduction : some recurring discussion on the methodology : explain the method stages in detail conclusion : adjust to the research results discussed.
there are some references that are not contained in the article improve grammar like "Mercubuana of University" there is a repetition of writing on "Based on direct observation in the genset's house (abstract) ,

" the maintenance and maintenance (introduction)", "Objective The purpose",
"genet's (conclusion)
